BANG & OLUFSEN

LUXURY FOR STANDARD ROOMS

The 32-inch version is a fully integrated TV solution - ready to bring Bang & Olufsen's world-renowned audio and video performance from luxury rooms and suites into standard rooms as well. It is also perfect as an extra TV in the bedroom or dining room of suites.

The slim and elegant design of BeoVision 10 blends discreetly with whatever wall décor you may have in the room. When switched on it will become a living work of art.

SURPRISING PERFORMANCE

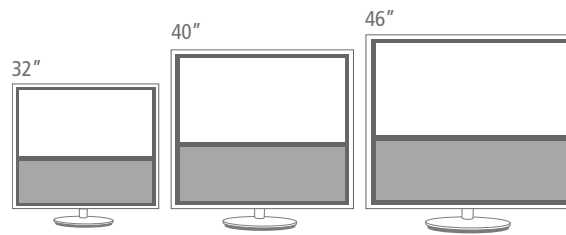

BeoVision 10 almost defies the rules of physics. Despite being flat, the LED-based LCD screen creates images deep enough to walk into or sail across. And custom-made speakers will amaze your guests, despite the minimal space they occupy, with sound so deep, rich and resonant they'll truly embrace and stimulate their senses. Open ears, open mind.

FREEDOM OF PLACEMENT

BeoVision 10-32 is designed specifically with wall mounting in mind. It comes with three different wall bracket options that place the TV virtually flush with the wall. One option lets you pull out the TV to a 45 degree angle either from the left or right hand side, so the guest can enjoy the best possible viewing experience from more places in the room. Another offers turn in a 30 degree angle to both sides combined with a 15 degree forward tilt. Finally, you can have a close-to-the-wall bracket, that allows you to lift out the TV from the wall and get easy access to the headphone and camcorder sockets on the rear.

As an additional feature, the placement possibilities also include a floor and a table stand, both motorised - giving you the ultimate freedom of placement.
